The transport Thomas got away for the Coast lest night at 5 o'clock. She and finished her husiness at this port. and as there are some needed repairs to be made when she arrives at San l'rancisco, it is probably on that ac count she lost no time in getting on her way.

The fact that the transport Buford has no bill of health may cause her trouble at all stops she may make between here and the Philippines. The Buford has freight for Guam. That island is under Naval jurisdiction and it is possible that they may not permit the Beford to land her freight there. It is also expected that the authorities at Manila will order the Buford into quarantine for five days and fumigate her cargo.

MANY WITNESSES ACCUSED

onfessed his guilt, he had the brazen ffrontery to take the stand and deny that he ever made any such confession. And yet one of the people was the defendant's own father. Yet he was unable to put on any witness to upport his own statements.

After taking to pieces the testimony of the witnesses by which the defense sought to establish an alibi, and pointing out the discrepancies. 141/2 | se branded it as a tissue of falsehood and perjury by which justice and the criminal laws were prostituted. "And George Kekauoha falsified on the witness stand. When a man "Business is dead," said the man does that it's pretty near time the who did not advertise, "and it is get jury convicted him and gave him thin what he deserves."

In opening his argument, Perry becan by asking the jury not to visit on the head of the defendant the sins of his counsel, to hold against him the lengthy cross-examinations, the volminous notes on yellow paper, the frequent consultations with associate counsel. And he further cautioned them to pay no attention to newspaper comment on the case, which he raid had been very liberal. He was going on to say more about the newspapers when he was stopped by Dunne, who raised the objection that the newspapers had not been introduced in testimony and therefore had nothing to do with the matter.

If the arguments of the attorneys for both sides may be believed, there must have been an incredible amount of lying on the stand in this case, for Perpy accused the witnesses for the presecution of telling very improbble stories, as Dunne accused witnesses for the defense of perjuring themselves.

Perry consumed his full hour in rgument. Dunne made only a brief toply, taking but a few minutes to

A writer asked a player why base-runner often slid into first on close play when he might get there a little quicker by standing up. His reply was this: "By sliding into reply was this: first you throw dust in the umpire's eyes. In other words, you make the tlay look closer than it really is, and the umpire is liable to give the runs per the decision. Melchoir kicked up dust around first in the fifth yes terday by sliding in and Perrine callcd him safe. He was out, but by agising dust, created a doubt in the empire's mind and Bull called him safe. Melchoir got a hit, for Bigbee fielded the ball cleanly, but he was claying very deep.
